A list of hospitals and asylums with the dates that they were founded can be found in John Richardson's The Local Historian's Encyclopedia (3rd ed. Historical Publications Ltd. 2003)

The Poor

Survival of these records is patchy and rare before the eighteenth century.

County Archives may hold:

Accounts of the Overseers of the Poor

Lists of Parish Apprentices

Records of private charities

Documents created by Settlement Legislation of 1662:

Settlement Examinations—details of J.P.'s interviews with a person whose settlement is in doubt—potted biography.

Settlement Bonds—promises by an individual to support a named newcomer should they need poor relief.

Removal Orders—issued by J.Ps ordering individuals back to their parish of settlement.

Settlement Certificate—from 1696/7. Issued by parish of settlement, promising to support individuals if necessary—meant those named could enter new parishes and seek work without being examined.

Workhouse Records—mostly 1834-1945:

Registers of inmates

Lists of those receiving out relief

Account Books

Minutes of meetings of the Guardians

Birth and Death Records

Apprenticeship Records

Lists of Poor People's Goods on entry to Workhouse
